Project Harmony Holiday Donation Drive a HUGE Success

OFCU's holiday community service campaign – Toys for Project Harmony – involved donations of in-kind proceeds and unwrapped toys to directly benefit children (toddlers-thru-teens) as well as caregivers at Project Harmony. As children and young adults restore their courage, facilitate healing and become more empowered at Project Harmony, they can continue to recapture more and more joy within their lives. This worthy cause is one way and one step closer toward helping Project Harmony fill their on-site Toy Closet and also fulfill their mission: To protect and support children, collaborate with professionals and engage the community to end child abuse and neglect. *We wish to thank our members and other participants for their generous donations to support the services of Project Harmony. It's a New Year! Prepare to Achieve Financial Goals

Every January, we promise ourselves this will be the year we get our finances in order. We vow to save more, spend less, and finally feel confident about our financial situation. But by the time February rolls around, many financial resolutions quietly fade away. ▶

Board of Directors Nominations Due March 15, 2026

One of the biggest differences is that credit unions are not-for-profit organizations so they're accountable to the account holders (member owners) instead of shareholders like banks. Credit union account holders have the opportunity to vote and elect a volunteer Board of Directors to manage the credit union. ▶
