Omaha Federal Credit Union has joined a community of caring people from hundreds of cities across the country in support of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention's mission to bring hope to those affected by suicide.

You can help us reach our goal by spreading awareness about Omaha's Out of the Darkness Community Walk on September 18 @ 11 a.m. It will be held at Stinson Park at Aksarben Village in Omaha.

What better way to show men and women that they are never alone in their experiences? What better way to lead real change within the communities that we live in and work? Whether it is to honor a loved one, to raise awareness about prevention, to cherish a lost friend's memory, to support each other or someone who is struggling, or to open up the conversation, we are walking side-by-side to help lead the fight against suicide. And, in the process, we have the opportunity to save lives, and to cultivate a culture that's smarter about mental health and more empathetic to humankind.

You can support this important cause by becoming involved in the following ways (CLICK on icons):
